MJS Packaging Launches All-New Website

Features an expanded product database and ecommerce options

LIVONIA, MI (January 2019) – MJS Packaging has unveiled its new website, www.mjspackaging.com. The site offers an enhanced user interface with easier navigation, an improved and expanded product offering, and striking product photography. The site also marks MJS Packaging’s venture into ecommerce, with a limited selection of stock products available for sale via the site.

“We recognize that today’s customer relies on packaging websites to explore their options,” commented David Lubin, President of MJS Packaging. “Our new website represents a broader array of the packaging components we supply, though the possibilities are truly endless. In addition, we increased the ease and convenience of the customer buying experience by offering our stocked products for purchase online.”

A major provider of packaging solutions founded in 1885, MJS Packaging operates in 32 locations throughout the U.S. Corporate website is www.mjspackaging.com.
